

Disclaimer and Terms of Use Use of the RDRWA Website Community Calendar Effective November 2020

The RDRWA Events Calendar (the "Calendar") allows The Red Deer River Watershed Alliance and the community to post events that focus on watershed management and other water or land-related topics in a common location to be viewed by the public.

The Calendar is provided as a public service. All event postings are reviewed and once approved, available to the public. The RDRWA reserves the right to review/edit/exclude events from the Calendar at the RDRWA's sole discretion.

Do you have a comment, question, or need help with accessing or submitting an event to the calendar? Contact info@rdrwa.ca or call: 403-340-7379.

General Disclaimer

1. Viewing the events calendar

The Red Deer River Watershed Alliance (RDRWA) publishes events based on submissions from event organizers and cannot guarantee the accuracy of the information provided. If an entry includes a link to a website the RDRWA does not control, the RDRWA does not review the content or operation of that website and, therefore, cannot guarantee the authenticity, accuracy, appropriateness nor security of the website or content linked thereto. The RDRWA urges you to exercise caution when accessing any unfamiliar website. The Red Deer River Watershed Alliance will not be liable for the damages arising from third party interception of confidential information over the internet.

2. Guidelines and disclaimer for people submitting events

Community Events Calendar Guidelines

The Calendar is open to the general public as a common place to post events that focus on watershed management topics.

Events posted on the Calendar should be located within the Province of Alberta, with preference given to events in the Red Deer River watershed. Events should be related to watershed management and other water or land related topics. Exceptions to this may be allowed at the discretion of The Red Deer River Watershed Alliance. All events must be legal.

Events

All event postings will be reviewed and once approved, available to the public.

The Calendar is provided as a public service. The Red Deer River Watershed Alliance reserves the right to edit/exclude listings that do not meet the criteria outlined above.

Events must not promote the hatred or disrespect of any group and must not discriminate on any grounds covered by the Alberta Human Rights Act. In the event that The Red Deer River Watershed Alliance becomes aware of any violation of these principles, the posting will immediately be removed from the Calendar without notice.

The Red Deer River Watershed Alliance reserves the right to restrict or remove any content that is deemed to be in violation of these Guidelines or any applicable law.

Events should not:

- Imply that the Red Deer River Watershed Alliance is endorsing the event or any of the hosting partners, without written permission from the RDRWA;
- misrepresent its relationship with the RDRWA;
- present false information about RDRWA products or services;
- use the RDRWA logo without permission from RDRWA; and
- contain content that could be construed as distasteful, offensive or controversial.

Submitter Identification

Anonymous posting of events are not allowed. All public event submitters must be clearly identified by their event submissions. All event postings must be accompanied by valid event submitter contact information including a name, email address and phone number. This information is not publicly shared and is collected with the purpose of contacting the submitter about their event.
